February 6, 2017

The University of Georgia is now accepting applications for an open Fire Safety Inspector position. The job is listed as a Fire Safety Inspector I but we will consider all applications from a Fire Safety Inspector In-Training through a Senior Fire Safety Inspector with a salary based on qualifications and experience. Our current range of annual salary compensation is $24,158/year to $62,385/year. The University also offers excellent benefits including health insurance, life insurance, 12 paid holidays, 12 sick days per year, annual leave starting at 10 hours per month and participation in the State Teachers Retirement System.

Duties include inspection of University of Georgia buildings and construction projects for compliance with the Life Safety Code, the ICC codes and 120-3-3. We work closely with the State Fire Marshal's Office and our local Fire Departments. Some travel, after hours and weekend work is required. To apply and/or to see a full job description go to the web page listed below and follow the directions. The Posting Number is 20162481.
